HOLY CROSS COLLEGE

Holy Cross College (Autonomous), Nagercoil, the first women's college in Kanyakumari District was established by the Sisters of the Cross of Chavanod in 1965 in response to the invitation of the then Bishop Agniswamy, Bishop of Kottar with the main purpose of providing University education in a Christian atmosphere to the deserving women students irrespective of caste and creed, with the watchword "Excellence" which is an expression of the Divine. The college at present has a strength of 2005 students in 13 UG programmes and 11 PG programmes. Further, the college offers nearly a dozen certificate courses. It has an excellent infrastructure, finest faculty members and a stimulating learning environment. With continuous transformation and innovation, Holy Cross College has become a trusted and an influential educational institution that supports the professional and educational competencies. The college is a home to nine research centers and is widely acclaimed for its unique discipline and scintillating academic and research performance.

CROSSIAN CENTRE FOR RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Crossian Centre for Research and Development was established to promote multi-disciplinary research among the faculty, scholars and students. Crossian Centre for Research and Development is an integral part of Holy Cross College (Autonomous), Nagercoil and provides a major interface with the wider research world. It constantly works towards achieving its vision by providing platform to articulate the research ideas and present the findings to the academia. It releases the multidisciplinary bi-annual journal "Crossian Resonance" and also organises conferences/workshops every year with relevance to the current trends in research. The Crossian Research Forum is the executive body of the Crossian Centre for Research and Development.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

International Conference on Integrating Innovative Pedagogies and Multidisciplinary Research for Successful Research Grants is an initiative taken by the Crossian Research Forum under the aegis of the Crossian Centre for Research and Development (CCRD). The conference aims to provide a forum to showcase all concrete avenues available to bring research to the reach of the society and to bridge the challenges that confront research grants. The keynote address and plenary talk spread through the two day international conference will throw light on the various funding schemes available for basic research, high priority areas for multidisciplinary research, trends and opportunities available for research funding in disciplinary and trans-disciplinary contexts. The conference provides an opportunity for researchers, academicians and students to receive quality feedback as well as to network with a vibrant and diverse research community. Participants will have an opportunity to receive valuable insights into enhancing the success rates of their research proposal sanctions towards grants. We invite original theoretical/empirical papers from the faculty members, research scholars and field practitioners on innovative pedagogies for teaching, learning and research. Papers may be submitted from the disciplinary realms of the arts, science, management, humanities or social work contexts or in multidisciplinary contexts.
